

Christine van Reeuyk photo

Sidney Anglers members haul away the old, dead wood clogging Reay Creek. The pair were part of a cleanup crew organized by Peninsula Streams and consisting of Sidney Anglers Association members and Sidney Public Works who worked throughout the day to clear the old collapsed bridge that blocked upstream flow and inhibited fish migration. The project was just one of many on the go at Reay Creek, Sandhill Creek and Chalet Creek, last weekend.